Recommendation

That Council congratulate former Sergeant Kevin Henry of the Shoalhaven Area Command, Nowra Police Station on his retirement, and recognise his dedication and commitment to the Shoalhaven community for the past 35 years.

Details

Former Sergeant Kevin Henry first joined Shoalhaven Area Command as a member of the Nowra Police Station 35 years ago after an injury in his final weeks at the Police Academy prevented him from taking his initial posting at Port Kembla Station.

Mr Henry achieved many milestones throughout his career including being part of Nowra's first anti- theft team and beat units, he was the last appointed lock- up keeper and sector supervisor for the Berry sector and the last appointed Scenes of Crime Officer (SOCO) before the position was privatised, and all which culminated to the promotion of Sergeant and Crime Coordinator.

As Nowra's longest serving Police officer, and long term Shoalhaven resident, Former Police Sergeant Mr Henry is to be highly commended for his 35 years' service, a truly amazing career, centred around his passion for crime prevention, victim support and protections as well as offender rehabilitation.

On behalf of Shoalhaven City Council, I express my gratitude and appreciation to Mr Henry for his tireless commitment to the Shoalhaven community and the South Coast Police District.
